Question/ Clarification	Answer
We would also wish to request if the requirement for the largest similar completed contract for the above project which limits to Aviation application only can be expanded to the contracts for the supply of weather instrument or equipment to any weather station services.	No, the contract definition cannot be expanded to include the contracts for the supply of weather instrument or equipment to any weather station services as it is too broad a definition and does not address the goods that the CAAP wishes to procure.

Please be guided accordingly.
